Webinars and Workshops from the Library of the Health Sciences

by Irene Williams and Mary Shultz

The Library of the Health Sciences (LHS) offers a number of online webinars and in-person workshops each semester. Sessions include: Google Tools, Web 2.0, PubMed, CINAHL, Medical Images, and more. These are taught by librarians from all four LHS locations (Chicago, Peoria, Rockford, and Urbana). To see a list of recently offered sessions, go to our Online Workshops page. While our spring semester offerings are nearly at an end, remember to check back at this link in June for a list of summer webinars.

Individual Instruction

For those who would prefer one-on-one training, appointments can be made with librarians at any of our locations. To request individual instruction please use our Get Help by Appointment page.
